COAL TO BE MOVED

U. S. DEPUTY MARSHALS IN CHARGE.

The United States Government Behind the Railroad Company.

PRESIDENT M'BRIDE IS INFORMED

And Asked to Use his Influence to Prevent Trouble.

THE MEN WILL PROBABLY RESIST.

The Climax of the Situation Reached at Last, and Judge Taft, of the United States Court, Issues an Injunction Restraining Miners or other Persons from Interfering with the Running of Trains-Other Developments in the Mine Troubles Yesterday.

The climax of the trouble on the C., L. & W. railroad over the river has come at last, and this forenoon the railroad company will start trains loaded with coal out the road from Bridgeport. The United States government will be behind the company in this move, and will furnish a sufficient force of men to take all trains safely through to their destinations. The story is briefly told in the following telegram, sent out last

Bamgeport, O., June 6. Hon. John McReide, Columb

The circuit court of the United States The circuit court of the United States has issued adcerce, command and order, enjoining the local unions of the United Mine W orkers and all other persons from in any way interfering with the operation of trains over the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling Railway's line, and that court has placed the running of trains under control of the United States marshals. We will run coal trains to morrow morning, and earnestly request that you use every effort to ly request that you use every effort to prevent any interference with the operation of trains, or with the road in any way, and thereby save serious injury to those concerned. Kindly act promptly.

those concerned. Kindly act promptly. Answer.
(Signed) W. R. WOODFORD, General Manager Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling Railway Company.
It is not hoped that President Mc-Bride's influence will restrain the kind of men who have caused the trouble over the river, but it was thought to be only fair to give the men warning. They are not generally credited with being a very brave set, and it is likely a wholesome fear will prevent their interfering with Uncle Sam's deputies.

For several days the movement has with Uncle Sam's deputies.

For several days the movement has been on foot to socure an injunction, from Judge Taft to stop the interference with traffic on the road. Hon, N. W. Kennen, the well known St. Clairsville attorney, represented the company. Judge Taft was telegraphed to at Cincinnati, and the situation explained, and yesterday a telegram came saying the United States court had issued a temporary injunction, pending a hearing. The official paper will be here some time this morning.

General Manager Woodford said last night that he could not say at what hour the first train of coal will be put in motion. That must depend on the United States officers' arrival. He rather expected that the obstreporous miners out the road would quietly disperse when they heard of the action of the United States authorities, and that there would be no trouble.

The difficulty is, however, that the dages cannot read and cannot understand the situation even if it were explained to them, and even if the first camp, just opposite the Wheeling Creek coal works, at the mouth of a deep cat, were abandoned and the men there dispersed, all trains would still have to run the gauntlet of similar camps at Maynard, Barton, Flushing and other mines.

As to the influence of the union officials over the men in the obstruction business, a reporter the other day asked For several days the movement has

Subsequently a man from the crowd told the reporter that the men had re-

The road was open for all other truffic, but no effort was made to move any coal beyond the blockade, and in the afternoon 200 miners were massed at McClainville, about four miles west of Bellaire. A large party of miners crossed the river near Yorkville to the up coal trains on the "Pewiky" road.

There is no truth in the report that Constable Stanton McMasters was killed by an Italian miner at Long Run while attempting to arrest him on Tuesday evening and that three miners were killed at Dillowale yesterday.

One lot of miners who are camped between the Cleveland & Pittsburgh and Wheeling & Lake Erie railroads near Tiltonville expect to stay there several days. They bought 280 loaves of bread from one Martin's Ferry baker last night and want more to-day and to-morrow. The saleons up there are laying in a big supply of beer.

A Martin's Ferry map who visited a camp of Short Creek miners near Tiltonville says that it is made up of almost every nationality except Americans and they had six or eight kegs of beer on tap.
